

San Juan Bosco School Project

San Juan Bosco is a School located in a remote village in the southern municipality of Pespire, Honduras. Their school has grades 1 through 9, and does not have enough rooms to accommodate all of these students to provide them with an adequate education. They are in need of an additional school room in order to separate the older students from the younger students.

In addition, repairs need to be made to the existing building including fixing the doors, walls, and floors, and painting the exterior and interior.

The following photo is the potential location for the new school room adjacent to the existing building. The approximate cost to build the room is $3,000.
